

The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The LORD is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? ²When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell. ³Though an army should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war should rise against me, even in this will I be confident.

News Article

April 2008

Mission Goes into Action

Four years ago Cancer Kids for Christ (CKC) was only a vision. For one family it was a vision of hope; a hope for the thousands of children and teens who endure the battle of a lifetime. It was clear to the Bagley family that a great challenge was being laid before them. One they were all too familiar with as this was the second fight for life their son would endure; a fight against the number one killer of children, childhood cancer.

The vision quickly turned to mission when the family found themselves surrounded by friends and family. In that group was the body of Christ. As everyone lifted their son in prayer and offered much needed support, it became evident that no family battling cancer should go it alone. However, in the most practical ways, the church and the community at large should stand up and stand in the gap.

As quickly as the mission was affirmed so was a commitment to complete their own personal battle prior to fully marching forward. In the four years that followed, many circumstances arose which the Lord allowed to complete the immediate vision for the mission. Through prayer, personal suffering and the suffering of other children laid before them, God confirmed with clarity the call to serve.

Today CKC is fully prepared for the mission of bringing comfort and sharing in Christ's peace. The immediate orders of the mission have been delivered and the Lord is clearing the pathway for service. Just as the past four years have been marked with milestones from inception to implementation, plans are in motion for 2008 which promise to place the mission into action.

Cancer Kids for Christ, Inc.
837 Mill Rock Street
Lawrenceville, Ga. 30044
(770) 377-8377

Cancer Kids for Christ is a non-profit 501(c)(3)